

Perceived Security By Various Generations In Using NFC Payment Technology: An Empirical Study In Poland*

Michał OLEJNICZAK

Pomeranian University in Slupsk-Poland; Institute of Safety and Management
<https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9868-3601>

Arkadiusz GRYKO

Pomeranian University in Slupsk-Poland; Institute of Safety and Management
<https://orcid.org/0000-0003-0437-917X>

Correspondence should be addressed to: Michał OLEJNICZAK; michal.olejniczak@apsl.edu.pl

* Presented at the 39th IBIMA International Conference, 30-31 May 2022, Granada, Spain

Copyright © 2022. Michał OLEJNICZAK and Arkadiusz GRYKO

Abstract

Launching the model to set different different sets against NFC and the generation of payments generated for its users using the execution technology. The theoretical part presents solutions of various generations that are responsible for this new payment methodology and the development of this technology in Poland. As part of welfare, starting with the website, it represents the various trials of a generation. The research concerns the possibility of accepting NFC technology in payments.

Keywords: contactless payments, microchip implant, RFID, NFC